

Chapter One: The Arrival of Owl Post

Harry Potter lies awake at midnight, attempting to write an essay on witch-burning for his Hogwarts classes while avoiding the notice of his aunt, uncle, and cousin.

It is just past his 13th birthday, though the Dursleys have never celebrated it.

He reflects on the death of his parents at the hands of Lord Voldemort and his encounter with Voldemort at Hogwarts.

Harry notices an unusual flapping outside his window and sees three owls:

Hedwig, his loyal companion

An unfamiliar owl

Errol

The owls deliver birthday gifts and cards from his friends:

Ron Weasley: a pocket Sneakoscope and a letter about a family trip to Egypt

Hermione Granger: a Broomstick Servicing Kit

Rubeus Hagrid: the schoolbook The Monster Book of Monsters

He also receives a Hogwarts letter requesting guardian permission forms for Hogsmeade visits.

Chapter Two: Aunt Marge's Costly Error

Aunt Marge visits the Dursleys, praising Dudley and criticizing Harry. Harry, frustrated, accidentally causes her wine glass to shatter.

Later, when she insults his parents, she inflates and floats in the air. Harry gathers his belongings and threatens Uncle Vernon with his wand before leaving.

Chapter Three: The Arrival of the Knight Bus

Harry fears expulsion for performing magic and considers living as an outcast wizard in London.

He encounters a mysterious figure and falls into a gutter, only to be rescued by the Knight Bus.

Onboard, he uses the alias Neville Longbottom and hides his scar.

Harry learns about Sirius Black and his link to Voldemort.

He arrives in Diagon Alley and meets Cornelius Fudge, who offers him accommodation at the Leaky Cauldron.

Chapter Four: Exploring Diagon Alley

Harry explores Diagon Alley, purchases books, and notices a book depicting a large black dog, reminding him of the ominous figure he saw earlier.

He reunites with Ron and Hermione and witnesses Crookshanks, a cat, chasing Ron's rat, Scabbers.

Chapter Five: Encounter with the Dementor

Harry travels to Hogwarts on the Hogwarts Express.

Crookshanks attacks Scabbers again; Draco Malfoy taunts Ron.

A Dementor enters Harry's compartment, causing him to lose consciousness.

Professor Remus Lupin repels the Dementor and helps Harry recover with chocolate.

Chapter Six: Lessons and Mysterious Tea Leaves

Harry continues classes with Ron and Hermione.

In Divination, Professor Sybill Trelawney predicts a Grim in Harry's tea, alarming the students.

Hagrid introduces Hippogriffs; Harry rides Buckbeak but Malfoy is injured for taunting the creature.

Chapter Seven: Confronting the Boggart

Defense Against the Dark Arts class with Professor Lupin introduces a Boggart.

Students successfully transform the Boggart into humorous forms.

Harry does not face the Boggart directly, but the class overcomes their fears.

Chapter Eight: Chaos at Gryffindor Tower

Gryffindor House prepares for Quidditch.

Crookshanks attacks Scabbers again, causing friction among the trio.

Peeves the poltergeist reveals Sirius Black attacked the Fat Lady portrait.

Chapter Nine: A Devastating Defeat

Gryffindor House faces Hufflepuff in Quidditch; bad weather and Dementors cause Harry to fall from his broom.

Cedric Diggory secures victory for Hufflepuff.

Harry's Nimbus 2000 is damaged.

Chapter Ten: Unveiling the Marauder's Map

Lupin explains Dementors affect Harry due to past traumas.

Fred and George Weasley introduce the Marauder's Map, showing Hogwarts' secret passages.

Harry, Ron, and Hermione use it to gather sweets at Honeydukes and visit the Three Broomsticks Pub.

They overhear Minister Fudge discussing Sirius Black's betrayal as the Potters' Secret-Keeper.
